10 CENTS PER WEEK

EMANCIPATION DAY TOMORROW

Thousands of Colored People
Will Come to Paducah.

No Disorder Has Ever Marred Occasion and None Is Anticipated This Year.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR CROWD

Tomorrow is Emancipation Day and Paducah will be the Mecca of the colored population of West Tennessee and Western Kentucky. In spite of the malicious warnings sent out of the city that the race feeling is running high in Paducah the usual large crowd is expected, and no trouble is anticipated by the police. In years past 10,000 to 12,000 colored people have assembled in Paducah and peacefully celebrated their day. Last year not a disorderly episode was reported to the police, and this is a record not every excursion can boast of.

Every precaution is being taken by the local authorities and extra policemen will be on duty in case of emergency, arising from an unexpected clash.

Police Precautions.

"Look out for raised bill men." The above is the warning sent out from police headquarters by Chief of Police James Collins this morning. The Chief thinks that the merchants will profit by taking notice.

"We know that there are four negroes here now who are trying to work the raised bill racket, but we have not the means to detect them and effect arrest," the chief said. "Every August 8 they show up, and last year two were arrested and are now in the government prison."

Chief Collins continued: "I have secured nine extra patrolmen and I will secure more if I think them necessary."

Chief Collins has appointed the following extra police to do duty tomorrow:

G. H. Toler, J. A. Prince, W. M. Smith, Hugh Miller, W. E. Baker, Mann Clark, L. L. Jones, Al Townsend, William Byrd. Nearly all are experienced policemen.

The county also intends to take a hand in the matter of keeping order. Magistrate Charles Emery said:

"There will be from 20 to 30 extra officers on the grounds at Rowlandtown and Wallace park to see that no malt tonic or intoxicants are sold. We have decided that this is the best way to preserve order and for every bottle of malt tonic sold we will secure a warrant."

Big Excursions

This morning a string of ten coaches were sent out of Paducah for the south and east to accommodate the extra travel tomorrow when the colored people come to Paducah to celebrate the Eighth. Officials of the Illinois Central here estimated that 100 coaches will be used in bringing the visitors to the city on the Louisville and Memphis divisions alone. Special agents will be employed extra from the regular force and the best of order will be maintained on the trains.

The "Ate er August" will be felt on the river. The very heart of river business will be paralyzed when the colored hands about the coal docks take the day off. Some of the boats might secure hands to run the boats but without the usual coal supply, river traffic for many of the boats will be impossible.

The tie hands will quit to a man. All the tow-boats and some of the packets will take on an extra supply of coal today so as not to be caught empty tomorrow. To add to their misfortunes, the hands on the boats may celebrate so heartily that another day will have to be taken off to recuperate from their day of "recreation."

Already he who has his hand upon the pulse of the watermelon market may feel it tightening. Watermelons will come in by the prairie schooner load tomorrow. The street cars will be abandoned by the white passengers who will take more exercise Wednesday than they have taken since last August.

There are few specially arranged river excursions scheduled for tomorrow. The Joe Fowler will bring in an excursion from way points on the Ohio river and the John Hopkins will carry the crowd back Thursday. The Royal and Cowling will handle large crowds. There are no excursions to be run out of here.

By the consent of the people of Paducah, The Sun has the largest circulation in the city and county. The average for July was 4132 a day.

LOVE YOUR COUNTRY.

John D. Rockefeller, Under Cloud, Talks to Children.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 7.—A remarkable speech was delivered yesterday by John D. Rockefeller upon his first visit this year to the Sunday school of the Euclid avenue Baptist church, of which he is superintendent. The billionaire, just returned from his trip abroad to find the federal government interesting itself in the prosecution of the Standard Oil company, declared that everyone should love his country with a great, good love, and that he should love its institutions because they made the country what it is.

CABINET

Will Be Reorganized With Reform Ministry.

Gazette Says Czar Will Attempt to Appease Liberals—Shooting the Rebels.

St. Petersburg, August 7.—The Gazette announces today, it is informed the change in the cabinet will take place Thursday. The czar's program now is, if the Gazette's information is correct, to form a reform ministry, evidently in the hope of appeasing the people and end the revolutionary struggle.

The strike situation is unchanged. All is quiet except that meetings of workmen are being dispersed as rapidly as discovered. Work is resumed in many factories.

Authorities continue to arrest men concerned in agitating the general strike. A great many of the strike leaders have been arrested.

Finn to Be Tried.

Helsingfors, August 7.—The captured Finnish revolutionists seized during the recent uprising were turned over to the Finnish authorities to be tried by law and punished by imprisonment. Shooting of men condemned for participating in the mutiny of Sveaborg continues.

INTO HUNDREDS

VICTIMS OF HEAT IN NEW YORK WILL RUN.

Mild Coolness With Lessening Humidity Brings Relief to the Millions.

New York, August 7.—Mild coolness came today to relieve the millions suffering from heat the past few days. At 10 o'clock the temperature registered 82, higher than at the same time yesterday, but the humidity is lower. Five deaths are reported from heat this morning, making a total of 21. Reports are incomplete, including only those persons who have succumbed suddenly. The real list will run into the hundreds.

RIVER MAY RETIRE A SENATOR.

Freak of the Missouri Likely to Make Gamble a Nebraskan.

St. Paul, Aug. 7.—If the Missouri river persists in following an old bed of the stream, which it is now threatening to do, Nebraska may find herself with three United States senators, and Gamble of South Dakota may be retired by becoming a resident of Nebraska instead of South Dakota. The river is cutting into an old channel east of Yankton, S. D., and if the water succeeds in getting into the old bed Yankton will be thrown on the west side of the river, and therefore into Nebraska. Senator Gamble is a resident of Yankton.

$100,000 Abattoir.

Louisville, Aug. 7.—Plans are being devised for the centralization of the slaughtering business of Louisville, and contemplate the erection of a modern sanitary abattoir plant at a cost of about $100,000. Daniel W. Loewenstein, a well known wholesale butcher, is promoter of the idea.

DEATH FOLLOWED CLOSING OF BANK

Cashier is Missing and Warrant is Out.

One Man Expires of Heart Failure and Another Commits Suicide at News.

CHICAGO INSTITUTION FAILS.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 7.—With a deficit estimated close to a million dollars and with the whereabouts of two of its highest officials unknown to the authorities, the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, one of the largest outlying banks in the city, was closed today by State Bank Examiner Jones.

In the excitement following J. G. Vireo, an official of the Royal League, who had on deposit in the bank funds of that organization, fell dead of heart failure, and Henry Kopeke a small grocer, who had his life's savings in the bank, committed suicide.

Riotous scenes attended the announcement of the failure, and a large force of police struggled all day to keep the excited crowd of depositors, nearly all of them foreigners, and many of them women, from rushing through the doors of the institution.

The fact that the bank was on the verge of failure was first revealed by President Paul C. Stensland one of the absent officials. A letter to his son Theodore, who is vice president, written from St. Paul, and received Saturday, started the investigation which brought about the suspension.

Another sensational feature was the disappearance of Cashier Henry W. Hering, and the issuing of a warrant for his arrest on the charge of embezzlement.

Chicago, August 7.—No definite trace has been found of President Stensland, of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank. Cashier Hering, for whom the warrant was issued, is believed to be in Canada. An angry crowd stormed the bank this morning and a big police detail rushed to the bank.

John C. Fetze, a capitalist today was appointed receiver of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank.

Another startling feature was the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of Paul O. Stensland, president of the bank. He is charged with accepting deposits with the knowledge that his bank was insolvent.

HOW NEW YORK

Spends Hot Sunday in Effort to Preserve Life.

New York, Aug. 7.—New York endured one of the hottest days of the summer Sunday, with not as many prostrations as expected, owing to the fact that it was a day of rest, and the hundreds of thousands who crowd the business districts and sweatshop on week days did not have to work. It is estimated that more than a million persons went out of town, and as a result every seaside resort within 100 miles of New York was jammed with men and women in a frantic effort to cool off. Coney Island had more than 500,000 visitors, and at Brighton, Rockaway and other nearby places bathing suits were in demand at a dollar an hour for rental.

To Regain Church Land and Royalty

Terre Haute, Ind., August 7.—S. S. Yanaway, who gave the land for a church near Casey, Ill., will seek to have the deed set aside because he had as a condition of his gift that the land should be used for church purposes only, and the trustees are receiving a big revenue from royalties on oil wells on the land. Yanaway says the royalties should revert to him. The trustees say the property is not less devoted to the purposes for which the land was given.

MUCH IMPROVED

Is Condition of Capt. T. J. Moore at Hospital.

Capt. T. J. Moore the popular detective, who is confined in Riverside hospital as the result of an operation for appendicitis, is reported much better today. He passed a restful night and today is thought to be greatly improved.

Fourteen Ice Men Indicted.

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—The grand jury indicted fourteen members of the local ice trust for forming a combination to corner the ice market.

YOUNG STRANGER TAKES HIS WATCH

William Harvey Victim of a Touch on Broadway.

Gold Time Piece and Pendant Charm Accompany Debonair Youth to Parts Unknown.

POLICE ARE SEEKING HIM.

He was a tall, well dressed, slender trim young man, with a city air and a winning manner, with whom William Harvey, a stranger, was talking at Fourth street and Broadway just before the clock in the city hall tower tolled twelve at noon today, and the young man got Harvey's watch.

Harvey is sure of that.

He had just arrived in Paducah and was seeking information about the city. He met the young man at the corner, where he alighted from the depot car, slightly divining that he was at the principal corner in the city.

Just as he alighted from the car he remembers looking at his $40 gold watch. It was then just 11:35 o'clock and the young man was standing on the corner.

Mr. Harvey engaged the young man in conversation about Paducah, but had no regard for the gold watch resting snugly in his vest pocket, a charm pendant on a fob, extending invitingly in reach of idle fingers.

The young man left him and Mr. Harvey went to a restaurant for dinner. The next time he reached for his watch, the pocket had a lonesome look and the pendant charm was missing from its accustomed haunt.

Mr. Harvey was an anxious caller at the police station this afternoon, and the police are looking for a tall, slender young man of modish attire, glib tongue and delicate of touch, with a gold watch and a pendant charm concealed beneath a debonair exterior.

FORTUNE IN IRELAND.

Miss Clancy, of Memphis, Will Have Share.

Cincinnati, Aug. 7.—Mary Clancy formerly connected with the Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine company, in Memphis, Tenn., was located today with her sister in Denver, Col., and supplied with the last link in the list of missing heirs to the Clancy estate in Ireland, valued at $1,000,000.

For thirteen years Wm. Keating, of Bellevue, Ky., just across the river, her step-brother, and one of the four heirs to the estate, has been searching for her. A personal advertisement in a St. Louis newspaper finally reached her and she wired today that she will come to Cincinnati immediately to assist in the steps to secure possession of the fortune.

HEARST MEN'S ATTITUDE

Avoid Any Connection With Boom for Bryan.

New York, Aug. 7.—Norman E. Mack, the New York member of the Democratic national committee, has announced to his friends that he will bring the name of W. J. Bryan before the Democratic state convention in a resolution endorsing him as the Democratic candidate for president in 1908, and there is much speculation among politicians as to what attitude the supporters of W. R. Hearst will take on the resolution. They have carefully avoided the Bryan boom.

Teheran Divinity Students Strike.

Teheran August 7.—The divinity students here, like the students of some other countries, are on a strike. Recently they forcibly released a professor of their college who had been arrested by the authorities for using seditious language. One student named Syed Abdul Hamid was shot dead by the officer of the guard, and two others were wounded. The heads of the clergy assembled in the great mosque, and all the shops, except those of the butchers and bakers, were closed. The city was occupied and patrolled by troops. The position of affairs excites some disquietude.

$50,000,000 on Manchurian Railways.

Tokio, Aug. 7.—It is reported that the government intends to spend 100,000,000 yen on railway and colliery improvements in Manchuria. The line from Port Arthur to Chang Chun will be reconstructed to the standard gauge. Then a new company will secure 200,000,000 yen in shares, leaving 100,000,000 to the public.

Partly cloudy and continued warm with local showers tonight and Wednesday. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 91 and the lowest today was 71.

EVELYN AND WHITE

Seen Together Week Before the Murder.

New York, August 7.—The prosecution in the case against Harry Kendall Thaw may, it was said last night, try to prove that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw had met and been in the company of Stanford White since her marriage to Thaw. The witness by whom it is hoped to prove this is Joseph V. Jordan, at present the manager of the Hotel Indian river, at Rockledge, Fla. Mr. Jordan was the treasurer of the "Wild Rose" company, in which Evelyn Nesbit had a part.

WAITING

IS MAYOR YEISER TO SEE IF COL. CALDWELL CAN SERVE.

Real Estate Men Are Anxious for the Board of Equalization to Meet.

Although the resignation of Col. R. G. Caldwell member of the board of city tax book supervisors, has been in the hands of Mayor D. A. Yeiser several weeks, he has neither accepted nor refused to consider it, but states that he is waiting on Col. Caldwell, to see if he will get well in time to return and serve.

Many complaints have been filed with the council for over assessment and erroneous assessment and the mayor is anxious to adjust the matters. Real estate men and others directly interested are anxious for a meeting of the board.

Death of Dowle Man Puzzles Family.

Sycamore, Ill., August 7.—David Westlake, a Dowleite, died today, after four months of terrible suffering, aged 76. He refused medical attendance to the last, claiming he would never die, but that would either get well or be translated. The family is divided on religion, those agreeing with their father being at a loss to account for his not being translated.

CHINATOWN

IS SHIFTING NORTHWARD IN NEW YORK CITY.

Rumors That City Would Buy Buildings and Raising Rents Cause Exodus.

New York, Aug. 7.—Demands for wiping out Chinatown are succeeded by a report that the district is depopulating itself. Raising of rents consequent on the understanding that the city might buy the buildings produced the exodus. The population of Chinatown it is declared is reduced from 15,000 to about 6,000, going further north in the city.

Divine Sarah's Short Comings.

Paris, Aug. 7.—Her financial carelessness, which according to French standards, constitutes the greatest possible stain on a person's character, turns out to be the reason why the chancellery of the Legion of Honor has again refused the cross to Sarah Bernhardt. The decision is permanent. Bernhardt has never paid the slightest attention to her obligations to the city of Paris from which she rents her theater. It used to pay into the public treasury several hundred thousand francs annually. From a business point of view she has long been insolvent.

Scrapping Over Tripoli.

Paris Aug. 7.—Strained relations have arisen between France and Turkey over the frontier of Tripoli adjacent to the French Sahara. The Turkish troops recently occupied the disputed territory, on the ground of Turkey's suzerainty over Tripoli. France's protest was ineffective. The Turkish ambassador here today received instructions to maintain the Turkish claims. The officials here do not expect the affair to assume serious dimensions.

JUDGE PURYEAR WILL MAKE RACE

Announces Candidacy for the Police Bench.

Democratic Committee Calls Primary for September 20—Platform Not Adopted.

CITY OFFICES TO BE FILLED

Judge E. H. Puryear of the police court, who was appointed by Mayor Yeiser to fill out the unexpired term of the late Judge Sanders, will be a candidate for the nomination before the Democratic primary, called for September 20.

"I will make the race," said Judge Puryear, simply, when he was asked about it this morning.

"I am not a politician," he continued, "and I don't know how to play that sort of game, but I will continue if elected, to act just as I have since my appointment. If the voters of Paducah like the way I have conducted myself on the bench, I will be glad to receive their support. If they disagree with my methods I will abide the consequences. I only know how to bid for votes by performing my duty as I see it. I believe in making the law respected, and in that I have tried to support the policemen in their efforts at its enforcement. The only way I can see to make a certain class respect the law is to make them fear it. I try to get at the justice of a case and if a prisoner can show me where he is excusable, even after I have passed sentence, I am willing to do the right thing for him."

"I am just going to stand on my record."

The Sub-Committee.

Judge W. A. Berry this morning announced his appointment of the sub-committee to arrange for the primary and the committee was instructed to "get together" at once and arrange for the primary. The appointment follows: James M. Lang, Thomas Harrison, Gus Rogers and Mann W. Clark.

Primary August 20.

A primary will be held September 20 by Paducah Democrats for the purpose of selecting candidates for the offices of aldermen, councilmen, school trustees and city judge. This was decided last night at a meeting of the city Democratic committee. The date falls on Thursday and preparations will begin at once for the primary.

Those present at the meeting were Chairman W. A. Berry, J. M. Lang, M. W. Clark, Gus Rogers, J. W. Bass, T. B. Harrison, Al Foreman, James Lally, T. B. Orr and Miles Stewart.

A resolution was offered by James M. Lang, calling a primary for September 20. It provided for the appointment of a sub-committee to be named later by the chairman to arrange for the primary, and that candidates for city judge be not assessed over $10 each and all others not over $2. It carried unanimously.

There were a few short speeches, County Judge Lightfoot and City Prosecuting Attorney Tom Harrison speaking against adopting any current local issues and Senator J. Wheeler Campbell speaking in favor of it. No action was taken towards this matter and the meeting adjourned.

LITHOGRAPHERS

Strike and Loss to Employers Will Be Thousands.

New York, August 7.—Lithograph work and printing representing thousands of dollars is tied up in this city as a consequence of the strike of lithographers and assistants. At this time of the year much calendar work is done for delivery in the fall, and unless the orders now in hand can be promptly filled, the loss to the employers will, it is said, be considerable. The president of the largest lithographic concern in New York last night estimated that the number of strikers in this city at 6,000, and the total throughout the country at 20,000, or about two-thirds of the whole number of men engaged as lithographers or directly associated with this branch of the business.

Policeman Resigns From District 13.

Terre Haute, Ind., August 7.—Policeman Brown, a negro, long a member of the police force, resigned today because he was assigned to district No. 13.

And the Indians did it again.
Big Freddie Miller had steam "to let" yesterday, and walked away from the Belittes at Wallace park. There was about a handful of spectators to witness one of the fastest and neatest games ever seen on the Paducah ball field, but those who remained away are the losers.

Allen was in the box for the Belittes and was also effective, the Indians securing but one hit more than the visitors. "Grandfather" Belt was receiving which accounts for the stolen bases credited to the Indians.

The game started off as though the visitors might win. Copeland's measly single barely missed Cooper's hand and Copeland was placed on second by a bunt and made home on a double.

The Indians tied the score by a nice play in the fourth inning, and in next inning scored twice again, due to a dull play on the part of Allen and Hackett.

Miller kept in good form and there was "nothing doing" for Belt and his bunch of beavers after the first inning.

Hoosiers Lose One.

Cooper and Wetzel made several sensational plays yesterday. Wetzel clearly established himself the star of the day.

Miller did some good, heady throwing yesterday.
The team worked like a clock yesterday.

The Indians are in good form once again and are "going some."
Here's hoping we take today's double-header.

"Texas" Myers will be in a Cairo uniform today and will cover first base. "Texas" will be remembered as having played with Hopkinsville two years ago and is nothing of a slouch in the game."—Cairo Bulletin.
Brable and Wright will do the throwing for the Indians today in the double header.

Piatt is back and the Kitty league is trembling—that is all the teams in it except Paducah, because the Indians do not have to go against the "wiley" one. Perry Green in the Vincennes Capital says:

"Wiley Piatt is back with Paducah and pitching the class of ball that made him the best pitcher in the Kitty league last season. The Champs are figuring on defeating him and the battles will be worth going miles to see. It will likely be Piatt against Perdue here on Labor Day."

Well, so they are going to put the Rub Hub Dub Perdue in to try to out do Piatt. Any way Piatt is recognized as the King Bee of all pitchers in the Kitty, and if Perdue beats him it will be Perdue, eight men and an umpire. Piatt only has to get in position and let go, then lay his glove down and put his sweater on. Yes, it will be fun when the big southpaw gets to Vincennes.

ANNUAL REPORTS TO SCHOOL BOARD

Will be Made by Superintendent and Principals.

Trustees Meet Tonight and Will Take Up Matter of Electing English Teacher.

BUILDINGS READY TO OPEN.

Tonight the board of education will meet in regular session but will have little routine business to transact. There will be other business which had been deferred, and the greatest interest is centered in this.

An English, music, science teacher, assistant principal and two departmental teachers are to be elected with all colored teachers except one principal. It is about the white positions that interest is centered.

The board stands divided in the selection of an English teacher and if the deadlock is broken, it will mean an easy matter to fill the other places. There is little talk centered about the probabilities of breaking the deadlock. The matter created a great deal of comment the first meeting but has dropped out of sight in the past month.

Superintendent Leib will have an annual report to make, and with it will come recommendations from principals. He is not at liberty to give out what the recommendations are, but did state that if the board acts favorably it will mean a great deal to the schools, all suggestions being for the betterment of the system.

Fred Hoyer, superintendent of buildings, also will file a report, showing the buildings to be ready for service except in the heating system. There remains some little work to be done to the furnaces.

Newspaper Announcement.

A special civil service examination for clerks and carriers in the Paducah, Ky., postoffice will be held in that city on August 29, 1906, at 9 o'clock a. m., in order that an appointment may be made in the office and future appointments as occasion may require.

Applicants must be between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years and citizens of the United States. Male applicants must measure not less than 5 feet 4 inches in their stocking feet, and weigh not less than 125 pounds in ordinary clothing. Medical certificates will not be required of applicants, but those who may receive appointments will be called upon to furnish the same before entering upon duty.

Lists of those who pass examinations are no longer posted, but information as to their standing on the registers can be obtained upon application to the local secretary.

For the required application form and a pamphlet of general information containing specimen examination questions, apply to Mr. Fred B. Tshon, secretary board of examiners, at the postoffice, or to C. W. Ross, district secretary, postoffice building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

NATIONAL

CIGAR STANDS

upon the old-fashioned methods of selling cigars has resulted in a complete victory.

Until the National Cigar Stands Company entered the field, cigars carried from four to six unnecessary profits in their retail prices. But the National Cigar Stands Company, by controlling its own factories and producing its own cigars, can, and does, sell at only one profit over a low manufacturing cost.

Producing at low cost, adding no profit but its own, selling at small expense, The National Cigar Stands Company can give, in this and every other of the 2,000 cigar stands now conducted under this system, cigar values never before known in the history of cigar retailing. To prove this try Lower Board Passes Measure Providing for Election.

Franchise Ordinance for Nineteenth Street Line Favorably Acted On.

ROUTINE BUSINESS MATTERS.

The bulk of business before the board of councilmen last night was routine but several important matters were acted on. The board decided to let the people vote on a $100,000 bond issue for parks; allowed several coffee house licenses and turned down two; favorably talked of appropriating $200 towards a continuation of open air free band concert; passed an ordinance for a franchise for extending street car lines on Nineteenth street to the Mayfield road; passed several street improvement ordinances and gave Chief of Police James Collins unrestricted power to engage extra policemen to take care of the crowds here on August 8.

All members were present. The minutes of the last regular and called meetings were adopted.

Mayor Yeiser presented a communication from a committee saying that an agreement had been reached with merchants relative to electrical street signs. The report was referred.

A petition from property owners on Harrison, from Eighth to Thirteenth streets, for sidewalks, curb and gutter, was referred.

Mayor Yeiser reported that Eleventh street between Madison and Monroe streets, is in bad condition and his report was referred for remedying.

Notice of a suit filed by Marian Lander, making the city a party in defense, was referred to the solicitor.

Mayor Yeiser reported the resignation of Councilman Race Dippie and his appointment of Mr. Lon Crandell. Mayor Yeiser also read a recommendation to place the matter of a bond issue for city parks before the people, also that a competent engineer be employed to assist Engineer Washington.

Mayor Yeiser read a proposition from W. F. Bradshaw to dedicate property necessary to build sidewalks on West Broadway. It was the same presented to the aldermen, and Mr. Bradshaw wanted some few concessions. The matter was referred.

City Engineer L. A. Washington stated he had advertised for bids on the Island creek bridge and received many answers. The report was filed.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, representing the Paducah Military band, asked for a small appropriation for the continuation of public street band concerts over the city. He stated already about $150 had been secured by private subscriptions, but that this is not enough. Judge Lightfoot stated that the concert is a source of great pleasure to the public. The amount asked was $200. The matter was referred.

The report of the auditor and treasurer for July, showing a balance of $105,271.46 at the close of the month, was filed.

The finance committee's report of accounts, salaries, etc., totaling $25,428.47 was filed.

On motion it was ordered that the solicitor investigate cases in cases in court against the city; also to carefully pursue the collection of back taxes.

The auditor and treasurer were ordered to turn over the 1905 back tax books to Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., the back tax collector.

Ordinances Acted On.

The following ordinances were presented:

Ordinance for the sale of a franchise for the extension of street car lines from Seventeenth street to Nineteenth street on Broadway, thence to the Mayfield road on Nineteenth street. The car company agreed to pay for part of a fill and also to fill in low ground. The ordinance was given first reading. The solicitor is to draw a contract with the Traction company agreeing to pay for the enlargement of the fill, etc.

Ordinance for improving Twenty-third street, second passage.

Ordinance for improving Jarrett street, from Powell street to Bridge street, first reading.

Ordinance for improving Twenty-second street, second reading.

Two ordinances for improving Sewell street, for a block at the time, second passage.

Ordinance for improving Hayes avenue from Sowell street to Bridge street, second passage.

Ordinance for sidewalks on Washington street from Second to Third streets second passage.

Ordinance prohibiting dry wells within the sewerage district, the fine for a violation being from $5 to $25, first reading.

A petition from property owners on

Clay street between Eighth street and Harahan boulevard, for sidewalks was referred.

Attorney W. F. Bradshaw, Sr., spoke relative to the proposition he made to dedicate property on West Broadway. He stated that he had been misrepresented and placed in a false light as obstructing the improvement. He said he is the "only one who has been willing to give anything at all" to assure the improvement. Mr. Bradshaw showed that he had given property, whereas others had been paid for theirs.

The matter having been referred, no action was taken.

Water Main Extensions.

A petition for the extension of water mains on North Eighth street was favorably acted on.

A petition for extension of water mains on Clay street from Seventeenth to Nineteenth street was favorably acted on.

A petition for sidewalks on Farley street in Mechanicsburg to Clements street, was favorably acted on.

Chairman Oehlschlaeger, of the fire and police committee, moved to permit Chief of Police James Collins just as many extra policemen as he deemed necessary. Councilman Hill wanted to fix the maximum at 15, but Councilmen Oehlschlaeger and Williamson, with President McBroome, did not believe the maximum should be fixed. The amendment of Councilman Hill to the maximum was lost, and the original motion carried.

The monthly report of the chief of police for July was received and filed. It showed a total of $920.65 in fines and costs collected during the month.

Saloon License Applications.

An application from John Whitlow to keep a saloon at 300 South Ninth street was favorably acted on.

An application for a license from J. R. Morris, at 100 Broadway, was favorably acted on.

T. Overstreet, at 900 North Ninth street, wanted a license. J. D. Overstreet formerly kept there and on account of a Sunday violation his license was revoked. It was stated that "T." Overstreet is J. D. Overstreet's wife. Councilman Oehlschlaeger spoke in favor of granting the license. Councilman Duval said a protest was filed before the committee against this saloon. The objection was a crowd of loungers about the place. Councilman Kolb favored giving the woman a show. The application was voted down.

J. M. Whittaker asked for a license for the old Bud Quarrels saloon at the Union station hotel. Mr. Whittaker showed that J. M. Quarrels has no interest in the place. The license was granted unanimously.

Theodore Peters asked for a license at 1040 "B" Broadway. "B" Broadway developed to be in the rear of 1040 Broadway, facing an alley between Broadway and Kentucky avenue. The license was lost.

B. Padgett & company asked for a license at 1533 Broad street. The license was granted.

The board referred the application for fees deposited by applicants for coffee house license.

The committee reported that the adjustment of the street car company, charging full fares to school children had been left to the mayor, as also was the matter of compelling the railroads to place watchmen at street crossings at night.

Chairman Kolb, of the public improvement committee, moved to allow the park commissioners $1,000 to fix up Lang park. Councilman Barnett did not favor the allowance. He wanted to wait for the bond issue. The motion was adopted. Councilmen Barnett, Duval, Meyers and Williamson voting nay.

A motion to submit the privilege of voting for a $100,000 bond issue for parks to the people in November, was adopted.

A motion for curb and gutters on

Sixth street between Tennessee and Norton streets, was adopted. On motion the board adjourned.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Bridegroom Despondent.

Louisville, Aug. 7.—William Duggins attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in the breast with a .38-caliber revolver at 7 o'clock last night in his bedroom on the second floor of his residence, on the north side of Madison street, near Thirteenth. Duggins, who is only about twenty-one years old returned home about dusk, after a day's outing, and a quarrel followed with his wife. The pair have only been married about six months, and Mrs. Duggins thought he should have been home earlier. Duggins seemed much depressed. Without another word he went to the bureau drawer and securing his revolver shot himself in the left breast.

Chance for Republicans.

Pineville, Ky., Aug. 7.—Since the adjournment of the Democratic convention on Thursday there has been much speculation as to who the Republicans will nominate when their convention meets on August 22. There is a great deal of dissatisfaction felt among the friends of the defeated candidates as the result of Congressman Hopkins' nomination, and the Republicans have strong hopes of electing a Republican this fall. No one has announced as a candidate yet, but the friends of John W. Langley who is now discharging agent of the census department are urging him to become a candidate.

Fierce Conflict in Whitley.

Corbin, Ky., Aug. 7.—About 7 p. m. last night a fight took place between Bob Ray and some unknown man who was with him and Charlie and Joe Mitchell, sons of "Squire" Mitchell, of Knox county. It seems that the difficulty began by the unknown man shooting a gun under the feet of Joe Mitchell. Charlie Mitchell then drew a knife and cut the Ray boy's head nearly off. Charlie Brown, chief of police of Corbin, and his deputy I. C. Bryant, went in hot pursuit of the boys, who were attempting to make good their escape into Knox county, overtaking them about a mile from town.

Took It Out on Lithograph.

Hawesville, Ky., Aug. 7.—After taking a pistol and going at midnight to a neighbor's barn and unloading the contents at a lithograph of President Roosevelt, Estill House, one of Hancock county's most prominent young men, has been adjudged insane and taken to the Hopkinsville insane asylum. His insanity bears on only one point. He stated to a jury that President Roosevelt and one George Freeman have combined and have an electric machine which they apply to the top of his head and suck the brains and blood out of his head.

May Be Assailant.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 7.—Officers have arrived in the city with John Cushmanberry, a negro man, who is suspected of being the assailant of Miss Myrtle Fugate Friday morning of last week. He was captured at Anton, Ky. this morning, and the young lady has been sent for to identify him. Should she believe him to be the right one, it is more than probable that precautions will have to be taken to prevent trouble. She is expected to reach here this afternoon.

JAPANESE SILK BILL

Shortly to Be Passed by a Far-Seeing Government—Its Origin.

"The pleasant business of exporting Japanese silk may be denied to foreigners in future," says Charles Edward Russell in "Soldiers of the Common Good," in the August Everybody's.

"Silk is one of the greatest interests of Japan. Control of the silk guild is vested in the government. Much silk spinning and weaving is done in Japanese households. But no one may sell raw silk until it has been offered to the Silk Guild. That is law.

"Many foreign houses are engaged in exporting Japanese silk. In years gone by their profits have been exceedingly fair to look upon. Japan is pleasant for residence. The houses did well and their representatives were happy. But the Japanese government desires to have this agreeable business for the Japanese. So it drew a bill providing for government inspection (at the exporter's cost) of all silk intended for export. The exact operations of this bill are too intricate to explain here, but in a general way it would reveal to the government inspectors the secret of the foreign exporters' business. Some features of the bill seemed to bear harshly upon the small producers. An adverse agitation was begun and so managed that it secured the bill's defeat in the house. But no well-informed person seems to doubt that in some form it will come up again and will pass."

A SPECIAL CHOICE FOR THOSE THAT COME FIRST

MANAGERS CAN ERR

One Who Saw No Dramatic Possibilities in "The Lion and Mouse."

One can readily credit the tale that when Daniel Frohman, the most scholarly of American managers, was asked to consider the drama, he waved the manuscript at the author, saying: "Do you call this thing a play?" Yet "The Lion and the Mouse" packed Mr. Frohman's theater for months, keeping its doors open long after every other dramatic play had yielded to the hot weather; and Mr. Frohman was glad to pay an enormous sum for the western rights. The weaknesses and absurdities are much more apparent in the reading than in the acting of the play. How a dramatist who can handle big scenes so effectively, with such real power, could be guilty of the faults that mar "The Lion and the Mouse" is beyond one's comprehension. The adroitness with which Charles Klein covers the weak places and his clever audacity in ignoring glaring inconsistencies that he could not explain if he tried, show that he was conscious of the faults. He has measured very accurately the extent to which he can play upon the credulity of his audiences and that is one of the secrets of his popular success.—"The Players," Everybody's Magazine for August.

Daily Thought.

"The things needed to be done which you can do is your duty."

What apparent paradoxes are produced by legal phraseology. Two doctors in Graves county are involved in litigation, each suing the other for his "good will," and much animosity has been aroused over the matter. Each claims the other agreed to desist from practicing medicine within six miles of Dublin, Graves county, and there another odd question suggests itself. "A physician, by reason of the responsibilities he has voluntarily assumed, owes a duty to humanity which he has no moral right to shift even under color of legal sanction. A physician should not be allowed to bind himself not to practice within a certain territory, when within its boundaries may dwell someone whose life can be saved only through the peculiar skill and understanding of the nature of the case possessed by that physician. However, in the Graves county affair no such phase of the situation is likely to be presented. If this suit drags the usual slow course through the courts without compromise, the injunction to prevent either doctor practicing around Dublin promises to degenerate into a meaningless formality."

The Russian general strike seems to be a failure, judging from potential results, and all because the Constitutional party hesitated to plunge the country into revolution. There is the conservative element of the empire showing itself in these bloody days. There are the people, if Nicholas only knew it. The revolutionaries do not hesitate to precipitate a reign of anarchy, and the reactionaries of the court party have jeopardized the stability of the government a hundred times to attain their ends. Russia's peril is bringing to the fore a conservative element that some day may save Russia from herself.

"The country was never so rich" just before the panic of 1857. The country has never been so rich as it is now. Says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. That's so; and just before Cleveland was elected in 1892. The people of these United States are not going to elect any more panics.

Ex-Gov. Yates, of Illinois, won some golden words of praise for his oratorical efforts on the hustings; but Uncle Shelby Cullom stayed at home and got all the votes for United States senator. However, this probably will not lessen the agitation of the atmosphere in Kentucky during the next eighteen months.

A Hawesville young man, who bore an insane grudge against President Roosevelt, took a lithograph of the latter out to the barn and shot it full of holes. Czar Nicholas, no doubt, would be willing to furnish unlimited supplies of "one-sheets" and window hangers to the anarchists.

Two prominent French generals threaten to fight a duel "to the death." The humane society of Paris should put a stop to the exhibition. A French duel to the death must be as exhausting as a six day bicycle race.

Some newspaper paragraphers, apparently famishing for copy, seem to forget Russell Sage is dead. May no inconsiderate persons make fun at the expense of the paragraphers when they are dead.

The Novoe Vremya, of St. Petersburg, predicts war between Japan and the United States with a quick victory for the former. We should hate to plunge on a Derby tip in that paper.

And, son, John D. Rockefeller adjures the Sunday school boys to love their fellowmen and love their country. He loves the very ground the oil comes from.

There is hanging room only on the Bryan band-wagon. Says the Atlanta Constitution. But, who wants to be hung?

SENATOR ROOSEVELT IN 1908. If the president wishes after 1908 to be senator from New York, it is hardly conceivable that his ambition should be thwarted. A man who as chief executive has acquitted himself so fearfully and well, and sustained such measureless popularity, could hardly be turned aside by the bosses or the legislature of a single state. Although Mr. Roosevelt's feelings are hostile to this paper, our own are very appreciative of him.

His record in office has been one of brilliant and valuable success. The best measures which have passed have received their momentum largely from his energy. Some of the most needed measures which have failed have been supported enthusiastically by him. When his presidential activities are at least temporarily ended in 1908, it would be a stroke of fortune for the country to have so able, experienced, and representative citizen stand in the senate for that state whose greatness today is represented by Chauncey M. Depew and Thomas Collier Platt. Colliers.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The Council and Bond Issue.
To the Editor of The Sun:

Can anyone tell why the morning paper, which poses as a paragon of all the virtues, persistently and consistently makes such statements as it does today in its record of the council proceedings, when it says the board ignored the mayor's suggestion that the question of issuing bonds for the purpose of building water works, and installing an electric lighting plant for commercial purposes?

The lower board unanimously passed a resolution some weeks ago, putting the matter before the people and attention was brought to that fact during the meeting last night.

Mention of it, however, would not serve the Register's purpose, so it proceeds to make the above misstatement.

"FAIRPLAY."

DEATHS OF A DAY

Infant Dies.

The seven-month-old infant of Mr. William Grogan, of Mechanicsburg, died of fever yesterday and this morning was buried at Oak Grove.

Charles Robertson.

Charles Robertson, 50 years old, a retired farmer died this morning at 5 o'clock of dropsy at his home in Littleville. He had been living there a month. He was not attended by a physician and the coroner was summoned. Mr. Robertson is survived by his wife and several children. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Hot Days Beneficial.

It is strange we never stop to realize that the hot days are good for us. They are, just as they are good for crops. Nature sends the hot days to give us a good "sweating"—if the use of the vulgar word is permissible for in this way it eliminates some of the poisons from our systems. If we would get out of doors, instead of sitting in the shady nooks, and take two or three hours in the open air with the "boiling sun" boiling us right we would feel lots better, and be lots better.

This is a correct theory, and is the theory that prompted the invention of the hot-air treatments I am giving with such success in my practice. When used in connection with Osteopathy it is a specific for the ailments that give us Paducahans the most trouble, malaria, chills and fever and biliousness, and I can in just a few minutes show anyone suffering of these ailments why they yield so readily to the treatment. I can refer you to people you know who will attest to my statements.

If you feel drowsy, and tired; feel like you had a taut band around your head which was being drawn closer all the time; if you are suffering of indigestion or any form, a course of Osteopathic and dry hot-air treatments will bring a quick cure, and do so without the aid of anything but aids to Nature.

My office hours are from 9 to 12 and from 2 to 5. Dr. G. B. Froage, 518 Broadway, Phone 1407.

County.

GOOD WILL IS NOW IN ISSUE

Two doctors, each insisting that the law should prohibit the other from practicing within a radius of six miles of Dublin, Graves county, have instituted cross suits for damages and injunction in the Graves county circuit court.

Their names are Dr. J. C. Sullivan and Dr. W. H. Lester. The latter began suit several weeks ago for $1,000 damages and an injunction, alleging that he had purchased Sullivan's practice and good will, with the agreement that Sullivan should not practice within six miles of Dublin.

Now Sullivan institutes suit for $1,500, and an injunction, alleging that under an agreement by which he sold the Lester residence and farm near Dublin for $3,000, Lester agreed to refrain from practicing within a radius of six miles of Dublin.

A Secret

It aids nature a little, that's the only secret about it. We refer to Ayer's Hair Vigor. It feeds the hair, makes the scalp healthy. The hair stops falling out and all dandruff disappears. The result could not be different, for it's the natural way. And it is a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft and smooth. Why not save what hair you have and get more at the same time? Earth Fluctuates With the Tide on the Coast of San Francisco

San Francisco, Aug. 7.—If you lived on the Pacific coast and knew that the earth was as infirm as to actually bend downward and seaward every time the tide came in, and then rise as the tide receded, would you be frightened? You wouldn't need be, according to Prof. A. O. Leuschner, director of the observatory of the University of California, who will furnish the scientific world with data upholding the above outlined condition. A new type of seismograph—the instrument that indicates and records earthquakes—which was placed in position at the observatory a month following the earthquake, resulted in the interesting discovery being made. "It was never known before that the weight of the tide water caused a depression of the earth in California," said Prof. Leuschner. "I have not yet made an official announcement of what the new seismograph has shown, as I desire to first watch the working of the machine further. The tide was not known to have depressed the shore previous to the earthquake. I believe we would have known it, however, if we had had the new seismograph in operation then. In my opinion the same condition always prevailed."

"There is no cause for alarm. The fact that the weight of the water presses the land down does not mean the coast is without the proper support. It simply proves that the earth is elastic, which has always been known."

No Stockings! How Shocking! Just Wears Socks and Shocks Whole City

Atlantic City, Aug. 7.—Atlantic City prudes have had such a shock! For the fair summer girl—she at least of the shapely leg—has taken to socks on the bathing beach and abandoned the conventional long stockings. This awful breach in the conventions was made by a girl from staid and prim Philadelphia. When she appeared yesterday in bare legs and attracted the attention of beach loungers, Peter Parker, captain of the life guards, hurriedly aghast to Mayor Stoy for instructions. But the mayor is a wise official and he knew better than to undertake to settle the all-important question of hose or half-hose; and where there was but one pair yesterday, today there were half a dozen pairs of stockingless calves twinkling along the sands, with a prospect of a general adoption of the new fad within a day or two, for—"If the girls wish to wear socks I have no official objection," Mayor Stoy said this evening. "I have had enough of trouble in trying to regulate bathing rigs in former seasons, and so long as there is nothing positively indecent about the costumes there will be no objection." According to local haberdashers there has not yet arisen a strong demand for bathing socks, and it is believed that the daring pioneers of yesterday and today borrowed their brother's half hose for the occasion.

BUTLER BARON

MAKES WIFE EARN LIVING FOR BOTH IN CHICAGO

Romance With German Noblemen
Ends in Kitchen in Windy City for Texas Girl.

Chicago, August 7.—A suit for separate maintenance began by Flora von Geysso against her husband, Alexander von Geysso, in the superior court has brought out a story of alleged deceit practiced by a real German baron on the daughter of a Texas college professor.

Seth F. Crews, the woman's attorney, declares the baron promised his client a life in a fine home on the shore of Lake Michigan.

At the first meeting the baron spoke of his residence on Lake Michigan and gave and left his address at a number occupied by a Chicago millionaire, where the defendant was employed as butler.

Suspecting nothing irregular Miss Flora Richter kept up correspondence with the baron and finally left her home to become a baroness. She was met at the station by Von Geysso.

"I want to test your love," he said. "I am a servant in the house which you thought I owned, and am known there as Alexander Geysso."

The bride says she was compelled to take a position as chambermaid in the same family where her husband was employed, and that before a year had passed she found herself the breadwinner for both. She declares the baron used a revolver in his arguments.

Von Geysso, who actually is a baron, is the heir to a large German estate and the baroness is merely suing for separate maintenance.

In Police Court.

There were few interesting cases in police court this morning and Judge Puryear adjourned about 11 o'clock.

The case against Frank Blanchard, white, charged with stealing rope from the Ayer & Lord Tie company, was heard and it consumed the greatest portion of the time. He was held over to the action of the county judge.

Other cases: Illinois Central Railroad company, for blocking the street crossing, left open; Tully Livery company, for leaving wagon in the street, left open; Matt Miller, for permitting a gutter to remain obstructed, left open; T. C. Leech, breach of ordinance $5 and costs; Dock Jackson, breach of the peace, $25 and costs; Carrie Carter, colored, breach of ordinance, dismissed; Charley Bryant, colored, disorderly conduct, $25 and costs; Arthur Breedlow, Sherman Guthrie, disorderly conduct, left open; Freeman Torian, colored, breach of the peace, left open.

MALICIOUS

ASSAULT SAID TO HAVE BEEN MADE ON CRIPPLE.

The Warrant Sworn Out for Arrest of James Taylor by Patrolman Ferguson.

A warrant was issued this morning by Police Judge Ed H. Puryear for James Taylor on the charge of malicious assault with intent to kill, and he will be presented at the next session of police court.

Patrolman Scott Ferguson, of the Broadway beat, took out the warrant. He stated that Taylor was in a saloon near Second and Washington streets intoxicated. He attacked a one-legged negro boy named Arnold Holland. The boy was driven from the saloon and Taylor is alleged to have followed him into Iseman's wagon yard. It was stated by the policeman that Taylor had out his knife and was in the act of cutting the boy, when Charles Iseman struck Taylor with a stick, inflicting a serious wound.

Judge Puryear stated that he would issue the warrant against Taylor and take the evidence into consideration in the proceeding against Iseman.

FINGER PRINTS USED IN ARMY

Best Method of Identification
Yet Discovered.

Secretary Taft Has Organized a Club
of His 'D. D. F.' Friends—
Secret Is Out.

COMMON HOUSEFLY DANGEROUS

Washington, August 7.—With the introduction into the army of the finger-print identification system, Uncle Sam will have a unique method of identifying his fighting men, which the war department asserts is more reliable and practical than any now in existence. The French system of Bertillon, based upon a series of all possible measurements, has been tried in the past, but with not great success, and the war department is now substituting the method made popular by Mark Twain in "Pudd'n' Head Wilson." Briefly, the system consists of having every enlisted man place a print of his right thumb and first finger on a specially prepared gelatine-covered slide, on the back of which is pasted a slip giving his name, next of kin, height and similar information, the slides to be filed at the war department. While the new process is to be put into general effect it seems probable, however, that it will be tried only on the new "rookies," as the recruits are called, for a protest loud and long has risen from the men already enlisted against being forced to have anything to do with a little dinky piece of glass as though each were a probable deserter. That the system will be of great value there is no doubt. Nominally, it is being introduced in order to do away with the "unknown" soldiers' graves in the future. In the case of a corpse which cannot be otherwise identified, it will be only necessary to take a print of the fingers before burial to be compared with the original at the war department. As a matter of fact, however, the new system will protect the government from frauds in pension cases since no one enlisting under an assumed name can afterward claim in his own name a pension and hope to escape detection. Deserter, too, will find it harder than ever to escape the long arm of Uncle Sam, since in the future finger print plates will be supplied to all recruiting officers.

D. D. F. Club.

Secretary Taft It is rumored here, has started a D. D. F. club with himself as all the officers and the committee on membership. To those who have received from him a letter beginning "D. D. F.," in place of the conventional "My dear Mr. Jones," the matter is no secret; those who haven't received such a communication evidently have not written him urging him to follow the advice of the president to put aside the proffered seat in the supreme court, and instead shy his castor into the presidential arena in 1908. Likewise, those who have made bold to urge this course of action on the secretary, orally understand, when they have received from him the reply, accompanied by a Brooding-nagian chuckle, "I see I'll have to put you on my 'D. D. F.' list." Mr. Taft will not at first inform one as to the meaning of these cabalistic letters but after one has pondered for a while he will merely explain that they stand for "Dear Damn Fool Friend." That's as far as he will go at present, but it ought to bring relief to others in whose heads the presidential bee is buzzing.

House Fly Dangerous.

The man who resignedly endeavored to discover the purpose and usefulness of "bugs" will only be placed in a still more mixing situation if he reads the dicta of the government's medics. The unpopular mosquito has been proven to be the conveyor of yellow fever, and now comes the report to the bureau of insular affairs from the Philippines that cholera in those islands is to be laid at the door of the sleep-disturbing but hitherto otherwise unoffensive house-fly. Beside carrying on a more or less active internal war, the government is now forced to take up arms against the dangerous fly, and orders have accordingly been issued which when carried out will make his life about as unhappy as that of the unconstructed Filipino. Some skeptics, however, have made themselves unpopular by allowing that the flies and the Filipinos will be subdued at about the same time—that is, when they are dead.

In this state it is not necessary to serve a five day's notice for eviction of a cold. Use the original laxative cough syrup, Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. No opiates. Sold by Lang Bros.

Congress.

HOW DOES GOVERNOR STAND?

Ollie James is coming home this week and Kentucky Democracy has its glass skimming the horizon of the "briny" for the b-v man of the First district. Also several First district statesmen in the embryo are bending ears to the ground to catch the first rumblings of a decided movement in any direction in the event—O, happy dream—that Ollie James decides to give up congress and run for governor.

As the days go by the situation centers more surely around the imposing figure of the tall statesman from west Kentucky, and every day some new politician is won over to the belief that James is the logical candidate for governor. This expression of opinion is usually accompanied with a doubt as to his intention, and a query as to the attitude of Governor Beckham.

The Louisville papers persistently assert that Governor Beckham will insist on James running, because of the split between Hager and Percy Haly; but from Frankfort comes no intimation of the executive bent of mind, and the anxious ones are left guessing.

Prof. Tyler, of Amherst college, said recently: "A man can live comfortably without brains; no man ever existed without a digestive system. The dyspeptic has neither faith, hope or charity." Day by day people realize the importance of caring for their digestion; realize the need of the use of a little corrective after over-eating. A corrective like Kodol For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by Lang Bros.

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women
To Consider

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

The Manager Of the B. & A.

By VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1901, by Harper & Brothers

CHAPTER IV.

THE next morning Oakley saw General Cornish off on the 7:15 train, and then went back to his hotel for breakfast. Afterward, on his way to the office, he mailed a check to Ezra Hart for his father. The money was intended to meet his expenses in coming west.

He was very busy all that day making out his new schedules and in figuring the cuts and just what they would amount to. He approached his task with a certain reluctance, for it was as unpleasant to him personally as it was necessary to the future of the road, and he knew that no halfway measure would suffice. He must cut, as a surgeon cuts, to save. By lopping away a man here and there, giving his work to some other man or dividing it up among two or three men, he managed to peel off $2,000 on the year. He counted that a very fair day's work.

He would start his reform with no particular aggressiveness. He would retire the men he intended to dismiss from the road one at a time. He hoped they would take the hint and hunt other positions. At any rate, they could not get back until he was ready to take them back, as Cornish had assured him he would not be interfered with. He concluded not to hand the notices and orders to Miss Walton, the typewriter, to copy. She might let drop some word that would give his victims an inkling of what was in store for them. He knew there were unpleasant scenes ahead of him, but there was no need to anticipate. When at last his figures for the cuts were complete he would have been grateful for some one with whom to discuss the situation. All at once his responsibilities seemed rather heavier than he had bargained for.

There were only two men in the office besides himself—Philip Kerr, the treasurer, and Byron Holt, his assistant. They were both busy with the payroll, as it was the 6th of the month, and they commenced to pay off in the shops on the 10th.

He had little or no use for Kerr, who still showed where he dared in small things his displeasure that an outsider had been appointed manager of the road. He had counted on the place for himself for a number of years, but a succession of managers had come and gone apparently without its ever having occurred to General Cornish that an excellent executive was literally spilling in the big, bare general offices of the line.

"You have done well," he said.

This singular indifference on the part of Cornish to his real interests had soured a disposition that at its best had more of acid in it than anything else. As there was no way in which he could make his resentment known to the general, even if he had deemed such a course expedient, he took it out on Oakley and kept his feeling for him on ice. Meanwhile he bided his time, hoping for Oakley's downfall and his own eventual recognition.

With the assistant treasurer Dan's relations were entirely cordial. Holt was a much younger man than Kerr, as frank and open as the other was secret and reserved. When the 6 o'clock whistle blew he glanced up from his work and said:

"I wish you'd wait a moment, Holt. I want to see you."

Kerr had already gone home, and Miss Walton was adjusting her hat before a bit of a mirror that hung on the wall back of her desk. "All right," responded Holt cheerfully.

"Just draw up your chair," said Oakley, handing his papers to him. At first Holt did not understand; then he began to whistle softly and fell to checking off the various cuts with his forefinger.

"What do you think of the job, Byron?" inquired Oakley.

"Well, I'm glad I don't get laid off, that's sure. Say, just bear in mind that I'm going to be married this summer."

"You needn't worry; only I didn't know that."

"Well, please don't forget it, Mr. Oakley."

Holt ran over the cuts again. Then he asked:

"Who's going to stand for this? You or the old man? I hear he was in town last night."

"I stand for it, but of course he approves."

"I'll bet he approves," and the assistant treasurer grinned. "This is the sort of thing that suits him right down to the ground."

"How about the hands? Do you know if they are members of any union?"

"No, but there'll be lively times ahead for you. They are a great lot of kickers here."

"Wait until I get through. I haven't touched the shops yet. That's to come later. I'll skin closer before I'm done." Oakley got up and lit his pipe. "The plant must make some sort of a showing. We can't continue at the rate we have been going. I suppose you know what sort of shape it would leave the town in if the shops were closed."

"Very poor shape, I should say. Why, it's the money that goes in and out of this office twice a month that keeps the town alive. It couldn't exist a day without that."

"Then it behooves us to see to it that nothing happens to the shops or road. I am sorry for the men I am laying off, but it can't be helped."

"I see you are going to chuck Hoadley out of his good thing at the Junction. If he was half white he'd a gone long ago. He must lay awake nights figuring how he can keep decently busy."

"How do you think it's going to work?"

"Oh, it will work all right, because it has to, but they'll all be cussing you," with great good humor. "What's the matter anyhow? Did the old man throw a fit at the size of the payroll?"

"Not exactly, but he came down here with his mind made up to sell the road to the M. and W."

"You don't say so?"

"I talked him out of that, but we must make a showing, for he's good and tired and may dump the whole business any day."

"Well, if he does that there'll be no marrying or giving in marriage for me this summer. It will be just like a Shaker settlement where I am concerned."

Dan laughed. "Oh, you'd be all right, Holt. You'd get something else or the M. and W. would keep you on."

"I don't know about that. A new management generally means a clean sweep all round, and my berth's a pretty good one."

In some manner a rumor of the changes Oakley proposed making did get abroad, and he was promptly made aware that his popularity in Antioch was a thing of the past. He was regarded as an oppressor from whom some elaborate and wanton tyranny might be expected. While General Cornish suffered their inefficiency, his easy going predecessors had been content to draw their salaries and let it go at that, a line of conduct which Antioch held to be entirely proper. This new man, however, was clearly an upstart, cursed with an insane and destructive ambition to earn money for the road. Suppose it did not pay. Cornish could go down into his pocket for the difference, just as he had always done.

What the town did not know and what it would not have believed even if it had been told was that the general had been on the point of selling, a change that would have brought hardship to every one. The majority of the men in the shops owned their own homes, and these homes represented the savings of years. The sudden exodus of two or three hundred families meant of necessity widespread ruin. Those who were forced to go away would have to sacrifice everything they possessed to get away, while those who remained would be scarcely better off. But Antioch never considered such a radical move as even remotely possible. It counted the shops a fixture. They had always been there, and for this sufficient reason they would always remain.

The days wore on, one very like another, with their spring heat and lethargy. Occasionally Oakley saw Miss Emory on the street to bow to, but not to speak with. While he was grateful for these escapes he found himself thinking of her very often. He fancied—and he was not far wrong—that she was finding Antioch very dull. He wondered, too, if she was seeing much of Ryder. He imagined that she was, and here again he was not far wrong. Now and then he was seized with what he felt to be a weak desire to call, but he always thought better of it in time and was always grateful he had not succumbed to the impulse. But her mere presence in Antioch seemed to make him dissatisfied and resentful of his limitations. Ordinarily he was not critical of his surroundings. Until she came, that he was without companionship and that the town was given over to a deadly inertia which expressed itself in the collapsed ambition of nearly every man and woman he knew had scarcely affected him, beyond giving him a sense of mild wonder.

(To Be Continued.)

If you have an aim in life, you can't afford to waste any time hating people.

DUDES OF OTHER DAYS

Details of a Dandy's Costume a Hundred Years Ago.

A cure for the confirmed railer against modern dress might be a course of inspection through a file of old-fashion magazines or the perusal of such accounts as are given by the author of "Sketches of Lynn." The description is that of a suit worn in the first part of the nineteenth century.

The boots were an important article of dress. The toes were made as broad as the ball of the foot, with the corners well rounded, giving the shoe the resemblance to the snout of a shovel-nosed shark. They were very snug and required strong straps. In order to get into a fashionable pair, the heel of the stocking was well soaped and some pulverized soap sprinkled into the boot. The length of time it took to get one on depended on the strength of the owner and the strap.

The stylish overcoat displayed five capes one above the other. The trousers were expected to fit as tight as the skin. Just how they were put on is a mystery. The coat was especially snug under the sleeves, and the velvet collar scraped up the back of the hand. The camel overcoats, after a little wear, became as stiff as birch bark.

The thing worn about the neck was called a stock. This name was appropriate in its suggestion of an instrument of punishment. The stock was from three to six inches high, and was made stiff. A man was forced to look straight ahead. Only by careful management could he see a little on either side. About half-way between his eyes and ears two little points of collar stuck up like toothpicks.

Ruffled bosoms and waistbands finished the costume, with the addition of a tall silk hat. When inclosed in this manner, with a dash of attar of roses on his handkerchief, the man of the period was considered irresistible.

RESTRAINED RAGE.

In This Case It Was Postponement Merely.

"In a match game, in an argument, in everything," said Walter J. Travis, the famous golfer, "it pays to keep cool. No matter how greatly you may be exasperated, you will make out better if you restrain your rage."

"There was once a man who saw a waiter in a fashionable restaurant spill a tureen of tomato soup all over a young woman's white gown."

"The young woman, instead of flying into a passion, smiled. She said it didn't matter. She continued to eat and to talk as though nothing had happened."

"This so impressed the man that he got an introduction to the young woman, proposed to her at the end of a month or so and was accepted."

"Some time after the marriage he spoke of the tomato sauce accident."

"I shall never forget it," said the bride.

"Your conduct," said the man, "caused me to determine to marry you if you would have me."

"She smiled."

"I remember," she said, "that I did behave very well at the time, but I wish you could have seen the marks of my teeth on the bedstead that night."—New York Tribune.

JOCKEY'S VALET

Makes Fortune Backing His Master's Mounts.

It's a big leap from an attendant for a jockey to an owner of a big string of race horses worth $40,000, but Charley Ellison, of Chicago, has made it successfully and is now one of the richest horse owners in America.

Less than twelve years ago "Big Blond Charley," as he is called by turfmen, was looking after the boots and riding tackle of Tommy Burns, the jockey. He was officially the rider's valet, but in reality he was more of a companion than Burns' "man." He held the position only because it brought him into closer touch with owners and opened up an avenue to learn their secrets regarding the speed of their horses.

This information Ellison eagerly sought, for he was a plunger by inclination, even if his resources at first consisted of his insignificant salary. It was not long before he had a big bank account. Burns was lucky in those days and rode many a winner on the race tracks of the south and west. Aware of the quality of Burns' mounts Ellison backed them heavily and soon had more money to his credit than his jockey employer.

A German editor, one of our late guests, records his impression that the British army is merely a luxury for times of peace. People who have tried conclusions with it in time of war have usually decided that it was a luxury with which they could dispense.—London News.

Twin Bridges.

The Inros in India is crossed in some of its remote parts by rope bridges. These bridges are remarkably ingenious, for they consist of no other material than twisted twigs, yet they are strong enough to hold a number of coolies and their loads, and long enough to swing from cliff to cliff across the river. Such bridges are composed of three strands of twigs, one for each hand to grasp, one to guide the feet. They sag gracefully from the tops of the mighty cliffs that flank the river, occasionally swaying slightly in the wind but are as firm and safe as a bridge of iron or stone.

All Violators of Liquor Law "Look Alike" to Mayor Yeiser, He Says.

FRIDAY IS PAY-DAY OF CITY

Another company has agreed to furnish bonds for Paducah policemen in the event the surety company secures its release, and a rate only slightly in advance of that in effect is asked.

Mayor Yeiser and City Solicitor Campbell have the matter now under advisement. By ordinance policemen must give bond for the faithful discharge of their duty, but recent suits against policemen and their bondsmen by persons arrested in Paducah, have put the bonding company to some expense and its officers have decided the expense is greater than the income. Consequently, the local agent has asked the release of his company, and the matter has been referred to Mayor Yeiser.

It was feared that serious complications might result from the withdrawal of the bonding company. It is not likely that policemen could get security on account of the risk they constantly undergo, and as the city requires a bond, the force would be in a sad plight. But the offer of the new company seems to afford a loophole to avoid the complication.

Druggists' License.

"They all look alike to me," was the answer Mayor Yeiser gave when questioned as to his probable action in regard to the liquor licenses of druggists. He said he is not yet fully advised as to his authority to revoke a druggist's license, but if he has the authority he will show a druggist, who violates the law, no more consideration than he would a saloon-keeper. The druggists recently fined in police court will appeal the cases, which will hold up the mayor's hand for some time.

Friday Is Pay-Day.

Friday is pay-day at the city hall. Over $25,000 in claims were allowed by the board of councilmen last night, and Thursday the aldermen will pass on them. Some $15,000 of this amount is included in the school fund, the street estimates and sinking fund.

City Clerk Henry Bailey has returned from Echo Springs.

What the Best Beer is Made of.

Process of Leading American Brewery Is the Standard of Excellence.

In the brewing of beer, as in the manufacture of other products, there is a standard of excellence. This standard is the Pabst exclusive process, and the recognized superior of all beers, in cleanness, purity, food value and refreshing, satisfying taste, is Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer.

It may be true that some brewers cheapen the cost of production and thereby lower the quality of their product, by use of inferior ingredients, but Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is brewed from the purest, best ingredients that money can buy or produce, the ingredients which are essential to the production of the best beer. These ingredients are the choicest imported hops, pure water and Pabst exclusive eight-day malt, grown from the finest selected barley by the Pabst exclusive method of slow growth.

Malt grown by the rushed four-day method, the usual method in breweries, is inferior malt because in the unnatural development of the barley its vital food elements are thrown off and lost. "Pabst," as one eminent scientist has said, "retains all the nourishment of the grain in his exclusive eight-day process of making malt and therefore Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the richest as well as the cleanest beer in the world."

Knowing these things to be true we can recommend Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer as the cleanest, purest, most satisfying and most healthful beer brewed—the beer that should be kept in the home.

My tests for this month show very satisfactory results, in that all the dealers, milk is up to the standard, and some above.

I find conditions generally, are gradually improving, and the dairymen studying conditions more, and giving the questions of handling milk properly and in a sanitary manner, more thought and care, and improving the selection and breed of cows, their health, housing, food and water, all of which tends to make their offerings of better quality.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

MILITARY BAND ELECTS OFFICERS

Mr. R. E. Jones Becomes The General Manager.

Headquarters of Organization Established at 222 Broadway Permanently.

WORK IN BUSINESSLIKE WAY.

The Paducah Military band, which will advertise Paducah more than any other amusement or pleasure organization, has organized in a businesslike way and elected a staff of officers.

Bert King is director and business manager; George M. Prince is the secretary and treasurer and R. E. Jones, the poultry farm man, is general manager.

The headquarters of the band is at 222 Broadway at the Prince cigar store, and the band intends not only to play all the business in Paducah but also to work in other towns, and has started a campaign of advertising.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot made a strong talk to the board of councilmen last night for an appropriation for the continuation of open air band concerts. This was gratis because the judge thought it would be beneficial to the city. He even agreed to donate the use of the court house and its spacious yard for the concerts if any were desired there.

HIS RECOMMENDATIONS

Were All That Noah Stewart Wished to Establish.

Noah Stewart, colored, was presented this morning in police court on the charge of assaulting a woman with his flat hand. He pleaded not guilty. The woman simply wanted to secure herself against any further attacks and asked for a peace warrant.

The defendant asked for subpoenas for nearly every white man he knew and Judge Puryear got tired writing. He informed Stewart that he was willing to give him every chance to prove himself not guilty, but did not intend to summon all Paducah.

"Well, Judge," the defendant interrupted, "I'm simply trying to prove mah recommendations."

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White have returned to their home in Kuttawa after visiting here.
